A well-rounded team of localization experts, language geeks and gamers

We're a team of localization experts with over 60 years of combined experience. We help game developers, publishers and localization companies launch their titles globally in more than 10 languages.

A few things that set us apart:

- Dedicated project manager will help you setup your project, prepare instructions and handle all communications with translators;
- All major languages supported;
- We work with games for all major platforms, including PC, iOS, Android, PS4, Xbox One, Nintendo Switch and many others;
- A thorough localization process that includes research, posting queries, terminology management, translation, proofreading and quality assurance;
- No minimum fee, we'll gladly provide ongoing support for smaller updates at our current rates;
- We can handle volumes too! Each language pair has a tight-knit team of expert translators that are no strangers to big projects;
- Monthly invoices and secure payment processing – we will send you combined invoices at the end of the month that can be easily paid online with a click of a button;

RATES

2019 Video Game Localization Rates

Since we're a remote team, our overhead costs are minimal, and our clients can enjoy reduced rates when compared to larger localization companies.

We believe that remote work is the future and we want our clients to reap the benefits of such approach. Please note that we charge in USD and on a per word basis. Before we add your project to your bill, we analyze the volume using word-counting software and send you the estimate for approval.

PROCESS

How we work together

We want to make sure you receive the best results possible. Our goal is to help your game succeed globally and the quality of localization is our top priority.

1. The Estimate

In our initial conversation we'll review your files, analyze them and determine the total word count. Based on the selected languages we'll send you an estimate for approval that will include the suggested delivery deadline. Once the estimate is approved it will be added to your invoice.

For first-time clients we ask for 100% advance payment. Returning clients can benefit from combined monthly invoices issued at the end of the month.

2. The Workflow

Having a dedicated project manager means that you can forget about all localization-related headaches. We will help you prepare your files, find translators for your languages and handle all communication between you and your localization team. We'll make sure all your instructions are followed and that all translators aware of additional requirements (like making sure that we adhere to character limits and use consistent terminology).

We'll also set up a query sheet where you'll be able to see question from your translators and answer their context-related queries. And if our translators spot a typo or too in your source text, we'll make sure to bring this to your attention.

3. The Delivery

We'll send you your localized files on or before the deadline and you'll have 10 days to review them and send us additional questions.
